

Eaglet News

This week we have been really getting our teeth into our phonics learning. In Nursery, this looks like lots of listening games that involve hearing and describing environmental sounds. This is important experience in preparing children to be ready to listen to sounds within words later in the year. In Reception, we have been learning individual sounds and the graphemes (letters) that match them. So far we have learnt; s, a, t, p, i, n, m, d, g, o, c, and k. Please do practice these sounds at home with your child, and don't forget to log in to your Oxford Owl account for simple books that support the children's blending skills for reading. If you are having difficulties logging on, please do speak to your class teacher. Please also find below links to videos that have been produced by St John's, explaining our phonics scheme and demonstrating how it is taught in school so that you can be supporting phonics effectively at home too.
