Eaglet News

For our final week of our jungle topic, we looked at the book 'The Monkey Puzzle.' We spoke about how we feel if we lose something, and we read, then wrote, our own clues to describe a jungle animal. After looking through pictures of the amazing jungles around the world, we were really angry to learn that many of the trees in the jungle are being cut down. This led to us feeling very grown up and learning about deforestation. Many of the children were so shocked by the effects this has on our planet that they chose to make posters to stop this from taking place any longer!

Grandparents' tea party

A reminder that if you wish to bring a Grandparent or family member to the tea party, please give your £2 to your class teacher on Monday.

Waitrose trip (Reception)

On Wednesday morning both reception classes will be walking down to Waitrose in Fulham to buy food for our tea parties. Thank you to those who have volunteered to come and help us already. If you would like to help out on this trip please come and speak to your class rep or teacher.

Food packaging (Reception)

For some of our activities next week we need some empty food packaging (clean ones please). Any type of food is welcomed apart from glass bottles. If you have any, please bring it into class on Monday.

Artists needed!

As part of our Early Years playground transformation, we are wanting to create murals on two of the walls. If you are available to help create these, please come and speak to Miss Osiecka (who, along with Miss Cook, is not artistic in the slightest!)
